

If we could go back in time and give young
Belshazzar some advice what would we say to him?

Worship God and God alone.
Resist idolatry.

Connect with others who are committed to #1.
Resist isolation.

Seek to serve, not to be served.
Resist “it’s all about me.”

Go to everybody you can and invite them to join you on this journey.
Resist insecurity.

To resist idolatry:

Start each day worshipping God personally and start each week worshipping God publicly.

To resist isolation:

Invest yourself in a Life Group (Sunday School, Small Group, or D-Group).

To resist “it’s all about me”:

Stay on high alert for opportunities to serve others.
(Commit to a ministry, clean the counter, take the shopping cart, pick up the trash, etc.)

To resist insecurity:

Invite other people to be a part of your life and bring them into your home, over to your table, to the worship service you attend, to the group you are a part of, etc.
